

CEDRIC CANNON

Baritone

Baritone CEDRIC CANNON made his Metropolitan Opera debut singing the role of Robbins in their production of Porgy and Bess, and made his debut as Porgy at the Frankfurt Opera in the Schatz production of Porgy and Bess. Since then, Mr. Cannon has sung Porgy throughout Europe, Japan, Australia and New Zealand and has appeared in concert with the Oakland, Savannah, The Fine Arts, Eastern Connecticut, Saskatoon and the Pittsburgh symphonies. He has toured nationally and internationally with the Sherwin M. Goldman/Houston Grand Opera production of Porgy and Bess, singing the role of Jake, which he also sang in Opera Ebony's concert version of Porgy and Bess with the Sinfoniuhli Jomsveit Iceland. Other international engagements have included Opera Ebony's concert version of Carmen and Opera Nova's Ipaliacci. Mr. Cannon has also sung on a continuing basis with the San Francisco Pocket Opera.
